Five Tips for Creating a Home Inventory Checklist

If your home was damaged or destroyed right now, could you list everything that was lost? Making a home inventory checklist is crucial to reclaim the value of your possessions in the event of a loss.

Follow these 5 tips when creating your home inventory checklist:

1. Go room by room, and list every item's description, price, brand name and purchase date. Don't forget to list the items hidden away in closets and doors.
2. Take pictures of all of your possessions for easy documentation.
3. Update your checklist annually to ensure all new items are accounted for.
4. Save receipts when you purchase new items to ensure your possessions are accurately valued by your insurance company.
5. Store your checklist in a safe place outside of your home, on a digital file or within an inventory checklist app.
